James J. Boyle, Ph.D., J.D.

Jim Boyle's practice focuses on all aspects of patent protection, including licensing, opinions, and patent prosecution. He has extensive litigation experience in federal district courts, including experience before the U.S. Judicial Panel on Multi-district Litigation; the U.S. International Trade Commission; the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit; and he has successfully defended multiple patents before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board.

For over twenty years, Dr. Boyle has prepared and prosecuted patents related to complex electrical, chemical and physics-based technology and processes. Prior to his work as a patent attorney, Dr. Boyle served as a research physicist for over seven years, elucidating the dynamics of laser/atom interactions and processes, and prior to establishing Boyle, PLLC, Dr. Boyle was a partner at an internationally-recognized intellectual property law firm.
